NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR A PRELIMINARY PERMIT FOR THE SACATON PUMPED STORAGE PROJECT

On February 28, 2018, Green Energy Storage Corp filed for a Preliminary Permit from the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission for the Sacaton Pumped Storage Project. The project, to be located at the existing Sacaton Open Pit Mine located NW of Casa Grande, shall consist of licensing, constructing, and operating a 150-megawatt closed-loop pumped storage hydroelectric plant. Features of the project will include a 1500-acre-foot water storage reservoir to be located in the bottom of the open pit, an upper 1300-acre-foot water storage reservoir to be constructed on top of an existing waste-rock pile, a connecting underground shaft and tunnel (penstock), underground powerhouse and connecting discharge tunnel to the lower lake. The underground powerhouse will house (2) 75-megawatt pump/ turbines, switchgear and other ancillary equipment.

The plant operation will consist of pumping water from the lower reservoir to the upper reservoir daily during periods of low area energy demand and then reversing the process during periods of high energy demand, thereby generating electricity and recharging the lower reservoir. The system will be "closed-loop" meaning that all the water will be reused, thereby requiring no creek or river for continued operation. However, some makeup water will be required for evaporation and water quality control. This will be provided by mine water and Negotiation with irrigation districts for field runoff.
